

HOW BEAUTIFUL UPON THE MOUNTAINS

E

James Carlile's
2nd wife 290

(2) ELIZA MALLETT DURNELL
CARLILE

of 57. This sturdy couple suffered and hardships along with the others of their day.

April 20, 1859, over 100 years ago, and Emily Ann in a group of ten trekked up the Provo Canyon and this lovely valley in which to settle.
Inde Jimmie's" oxen were the strongest was appointed to take the lead. The first after leaving Provo, these pioneers attended a snowslide in the canyon at South Fork of the Provo River. This large slide and it was impossible for
to get over it that night so they d at the slide. The next morning, took their wagons apart and carried and along with their belongings, over the wagons back together ceeded on their journey. As ing the Provo River "Uncle first as his team was the
a lighter team started ushing water started to take extrem. "Uncle Jimmie" rushed his back and caught the smaller team and the team, wagon, and family across

Carlile was a successful farmer of valley and a devoted member to his religion. After the death of his first he married a widow, Eliza Durnell, ad one son, George, by her previous
ge. She was a very kind, understandson and was loved by everyone who
her. After her death, he married Ra-loser. In his later life, James was eper" for years at the Second Ward
"Old Hall" as it was called and Sunday night after he had locked the put out the coal oil lights, etc., one see him with his lantern homeward He was very faithful in all his religities. In their later lives, his wife Ra-went to live with home people in Lehi.
James Carlile was the oldest man in at the time of his death—88½ years te died September 9, 1917 at the home daughter, Mrs. George Barzee, where d been residing in his later life, and uried in the Heber City cemetery.
ir family consisted of: Sarah Ann,
na, James William, Emily Jane, Char-bert, and a little girl, Mary Elizabeth, ied at the age of four of diptheria.

E

of 57. This sturdy couple suffered
and hardships along with the others of their day.

April 20, 1859, over 100 years ago,
and Emily Ann in a group of ten
trekked up the Provo Canyon and
this lovely valley in which to settle.
Inde Jimmie's" oxen were the strong-
est was appointed to take the lead. The
first after leaving Provo, these pioneers
attended a snowslide in the canyon at
South Fork of the Provo River. This
large slide and it was impossible for
to get over it that night so they
d at the slide. The next morning,
took their wagons apart and carried
and along with their belongings, over
the wagons back together
ceeded on their journey. As
ing the Provo River "Uncle
first as his team was the
a lighter team started
ushing water started to take
extrem. "Uncle Jimmie" rushed his
back and caught the smaller team and
the team, wagon, and family across

Carlile was a successful farmer of
valley and a devoted member to his
religion. After the death of his first
he married a widow, Eliza Durnell,
ad one son, George, by her previous
ge. She was a very kind, understand-
son and was loved by everyone who
her. After her death, he married Ra-
loser. In his later life, James was
eper" for years at the Second Ward
"Old Hall" as it was called and
Sunday night after he had locked the
put out the coal oil lights, etc., one
see him with his lantern homeward
He was very faithful in all his relig-
ities. In their later lives, his wife Ra-
went to live with home people in Lehi.
James Carlile was the oldest man in
at the time of his death—88½ years
te died September 9, 1917 at the home
daughter, Mrs. George Barzee, where
d been residing in his later life, and
uried in the Heber City cemetery.
ir family consisted of: Sarah Ann,
na, James William, Emily Jane, Char-
bert, and a little girl, Mary Elizabeth,
ied at the age of four of diptheria.

Eliza Mallett Durnell Carlile was born November 4, 1835 in Winstham Somersetshire, England. She married George Durnell in July, 1874. She was the mother of two children, Eli George, and a daughter Ellen, who died in 1881. Her husband George died in 1876. Eliza Durnell was converted to the LDS Church and baptized in England. She and her son George came to America in 1882. They lived in Salt Lake City until she married James Carlile and moved to Heber City, Utah, to make her home. She died December 6, 1901. She was a very kind, sympathetic and patient person and was loved by all who knew her.

